

Many skaters that are local know the spots, but what if there was a way to find skate spots without being a local and without having to find people to ask for spots